Very Rev. Michael A. Swierz, Pastor

Twenty-Seventh Sunday In Ordinary Time

Dear Friends,

WELCOME TO THE VINEYARD

Imagine that just before a soul begins his or her earthly journey, God takes the soul by the hand and points out a certain place on earth. God then explains to the about-to-be-conceived: "This is going to be your piece of the vineyard. It will be yours to make of it whatever you can. All I ask is that you work it as best you can and get the most out of the soil and the shoots I give you. If you produce grapes that become the choice wine of reconciliation and justice, great; if you only have enough water and nutrients to produce a few grapes that make a small amount of the sherry of humility and kindness, good; if you only have enough time to plant a few seeds or start a few vines that others can bring to a full harvest, you'll have done well." But God cautions: "Just don't make the mistake that too many of my tenants make. They get too caught up in the number of grapes that they can coax from the vines. My vineyard is about harvesting good grapes, not amassing profits. "Remember, too, that you are responsible for the part of the vineyard I give you. Don't exhaust the grapes you harvest for yourself alone and then leave nothing behind but a dried, hollow tangle of dead vines for the next grower. I will demand a price for what you produce – and what you squander. "Keep in mind," God the vineyard owner continues, "that everyone has his or her own piece of the vineyard. But there are no dividing lines, no fences, no property markers. Your part of the vineyard is joined to your neighbor's – so you can do neither good nor evil in your vineyard without affecting the folks next to you and the vines around you."

Finally, God says: "One more thing. And I don't mean to harp on this, but it is my vineyard. Not yours. I'm giving you a piece of it because that's what being God is all about. An occasional thank you would be nice. But the moment you think this vineyard is yours or that you deserve more and better, your vineyard will become a very unhappy and unproductive place. "So, go to it."

And then God breathes that soul into a human embryo, and another adventure begins.

[Inspired and adapted from The Dialogue of St. Catherine of Siena.]

Today's parable of the wicked tenants is played out in our own time and place whenever an unjust business practice, a socially irresponsible decision or a morally indefensible act is called out. Too often we view this "vineyard" God has given us as ours alone, and we will manipulate it, abuse it, and exhaust it to satisfy our own needs and pleasure, and like the tenants in the today's parable, we find some way to cut down whoever challenges us or calls us accountable. Christ the "vineyard owner's son" comes with a new vision for the vineyard we only "lease" from his Father: a vision of love rather than desire, of peace rather than hostility, of forgiveness rather than vengeance.

Every October we pray for each of us to have a deepened respect for human life. God loved us so much that He created our world and us to be stewards of all he created. He created it and saw that it was good. As Catholics we value the dignity of each life and know that all of us have a special plan in God's amazing creation story. We are called to defend and protect that life from the moment of conception to natural death.

This past week so many brought their beloved pets for a blessing. This is always a special time for all parishioners, especially our children. St. Francis, pray for us.

Next weekend at all Masses the Sacrament of the Anointing of the Sick will be prayed. All parishioners, especially those in need of prayers for health reasons are invited to share in this anointing.

Don't forget our Harvest Homecoming. It's a fun-raiser and fundraiser to help us offset some of the costs we will incur in the rebuilding and restoration of the church. Our parish is so blessed because of you, our faithful.

The 2024 Mass Book is available for requests. Due to limited Masses, each family may schedule one weekend Mass and two weekday Masses per soul for the year. More Mass dates will open up after everyone has a chance to schedule a Mass.

This week the annual Financial Report is provided for you as a bulletin insert. Your generosity is so appreciated. We continue to be debt free. Your loyalty through covid restrictions and the rebuilding following our fire testifies to your faith and love for God and the Church.

STEWARDSHIP

DEACON JOHN'S STEWARDSHIP COLUMN

THE CUPCAKE AND STEWARDSHIP

A few weeks ago, we were invited to a party for the Ohio State vs. Notre Dame football game. Karen and I thought it would be nice to bring a cake decorated in gray and scarlet. We had our four-year-old grandson, John Paul, and our granddaughter, Ariana, with us as we went to pick up the cake. As we walked past the bakery our grandson pleaded with us, "Papa and Mimi, I want to bring something to the party too." Of course, we said that would be okay. So, they picked up two containers of mini cupcakes. The party began and everyone was eating. John Paul asked if he could pass out the cupcakes to all the people. On his way he went, happy to give away all his cupcakes. In a few minutes he came running back to us as he loudly announced, "Look! I got $14!" The people were so moved by his generous heart that they gave him money for his piggy bank.

I believe this story of our grandson and the cupcakes captivates the essence of stewardship spirituality. We give our time, talent, and treasure with a generous heart and the good Lord returns to us ten-fold. In some special way, we can all learn something from the story of John Paul and the cupcakes.

Love,

Deacon John

SHARING OUR TREASURE

"The stone that the builders rejected has become the corner stone..." - MATTHEW 21:42

Jesus was rejected by the religious and political leaders of his day, as well as ordinary citizens, but he was still obedient to God, the Father. Similarly, living a stewardship lifestyle may cause you to be "rejected" by others, but we, too are called to be obedient. Saying grace before a meal in a restaurant may attract some strange looks from some. But to others it is a sign that God is alive and well!

DEFEAT
Ohio's Proposed
Abortion Amendment

As we are in Respect Life Month, the Catholic Conference of Ohio firmly opposes Issue 1 on the November 7 ballot in Ohio, which would enshrine the right to abortion in the Ohio Constitution. This amendment endangers the health and safety of women, threatens parental rights, and allows for abortion through all nine months of pregnancy.

The Catholic Church has always advocated for and acted to protect the most vulnerable in society. Read more about Issue 1 by visiting www.ohiocathconf.org. Be informed before you vote.
